Entered at the Post Office in Lancaster, Ky., as Second Class Matter.

NUMBER 45

LOUIS LANDRAM, Publisher.

LANCASTER, KY., THURSDAY AFTERNOON, FEB. 20, 1902.

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR

Of Local Interest.

County court Monday.

All agree that this has been the hardest winter they ever experienced.

Notwithstanding the ice and snow, the coal dealer has been in clover for several months past.

Well-Known Colored Man.

Lewis Yantis, the old colored blacksmith, died Monday night, after an illness of pneumonia. Two of his children died of the same disease during the past two weeks.

Many Chickens.

The number of chickens in the United States is estimated at 284,000,000. This estimate was evidently made just before opening of the Methodist camp meeting season.

Communion Services.

The communion of the Lord's Supper will be celebrated at the Presbyterian church next Sunday morning. The preparatory services began last night, and will be continued tomorrow (Friday) evening at seven o'clock.

Major Kinnaird, E. W. Harris, H. A. B. Marksby, and several others who put in their gardens the last of February each year, are experiencing some difficulty in breaking up the ground. They all say they will have peas up next week at the farthest.

Child Dies in Stanford.

Sarah, aged ten years and six months, daughter of Rev. W. E. Arnold, died of appendicitis at the home of her parents in Stanford on last Monday. The funeral was conducted by Rev. S. Wright, Vaught and Robinson.

Chilly in Mississippi.

In remitting for THE RECORD, Dr. B. Ramsey writes from Pass Christian, Miss., that the weather is quite chilly there, but is nothing to compare with the icy reports he hears from Kentucky. He is getting along nicely and asks to be remembered to all inquiring friends.

Look Out, He's Coming.

Ernest Brown, the best collector in the United States, is out to see those it arraigns with THE RECORD. We are not employing him to travel around for his health, and if you owe anything, please pay him when he first comes, and thus save another trip.

Hustling Young Agent.

Mr. J. Herbert Kinnaird is making a great success in the insurance business, and bids fair to equal his clever daddy, the Major, who is the best in the state. Herbert has several companies and can give you "the best and cheapest" to be had. His office is at Dr. J. B. Kinnaird's.

Up To Date Operator.

Mr. Clay Hamilton, the clever operator at the Western Union office, has purchased an Oliver typewriter, and now takes all his messages on the machine. This is strictly up to date, and we congratulate Clay on his progressive spirit. Jo. E. Robinson is local agent for the Oliver.

Good Preacher.

Rev. C. M. Chumley, of Virginia, filled the pulpit at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning and evening, the house being filled at each service. Those who heard him are delighted with his sermons, and we understand, there is a strong probability of his being called as pastor of the local church.

A New Department.

The Logan Dry Goods Co., always on the hunt for up-to-date ideas, has decided to open a millinery department in connection with their already large dry goods, clothing and other branches, and will keep in stock the latest and best of everything in that line. Miss Dove B. Harris will have charge, and you are sure to find what you want.

Monkey John.

The Advocate says "John Shanks, alias Henry Johnson, alias Glass Eater, alias Monkey John, alias Rock Eater," was arrested in Danville for burglary, but no case could be proven and he was dismissed on condition that he remain away from Danville for five years. "Monkey John" was convicted on similar charges and sent to the penitentiary twice from Lancaster.

Chronic Growlers.

The individual who gets the fewest letters makes the most complaint to the postmaster; the man who never had a good meal at home growls at the hotel accommodations; the man who complains most of his neighbors is the meanest of the lot; the church member who pays the least to the preacher's salary finds the most fault and always complains of the bad management of the church; the man who never invests a dollar in town enterprises is the man who is always crying down public improvements; the loafer or no-account workman is always to the front in strikes and labor agitation, and the subscriber who is the slowest to pay his subscription finds the most fault in his paper.

Lecture Friday.

There will be a lecture given at the Christian church Friday afternoon at 3:30 by Albert Meade, of Louisville, field secretary of the State Christian Endeavor Society of Kentucky. He will also deliver a general address at same place at 7:30 in the evening. All cordially invited to attend.

New Officers Elected.

At a meeting of the Directors of the Citizens National Bank, Mr. Lewis Y. Leavell was chosen as president, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Jno. M. Higginbotham, and Judge Joe S. Robinson was selected as vice president, to fill the vacancy by reason of the advancement of Mr. Leavell. In the selection of these gentlemen, the board displayed excellent judgment, for we know of none more capable of filling the offices. They are men of fine judgement and are well balanced and safe in every respect. The stockholders and patrons are to be congratulated upon these selections.

Absolutely Disgusting.

If the proper post office officials could be made aware of the miserable manner in which Cincinnati mail is misplaced in coming via Junction City, they certainly could not keep hands off those to blame for such a state of case. Cincinnati mail sent that way frequently gets to Lancaster two or three days after time of being mailed at the former office, and its almost a daily occurrence for the Enquirer to come lumbering in a day late. Letters from Somerset, and other Southern points come in any old time, from a day to ten days late. Uncle Sam pays a pretty stiff price for handling the mails, and if the people would raise a kick this nuisance would be stopped.

Hope for Bald Heads.

Danville Advocate—Heber McGrath, expert tonsorial artist at Duncan, has hit a scheme which will absolutely prevent the hair from falling out, so goes the testimony of good men. A number of gentlemen who were losing their hair in great quantities have followed McGrath's instructions and been wonderfully benefited. His theory is so simple and inexpensive that all may try it. The whole thing is this: "Have your hair trimmed each month on the first Friday of the light of moon for four successive months and no more dropping out will occur. Some good men here who have followed the advice declare that it proved effective.

Big Times for K. P's.

The local lodge, Knights of Pythias has succeeded in pulling together again, and all the old "stand bys" have put their shoulder to the wheel to make it one of the best in the state. The newly-elected officers have added much vim to the meetings, and the hall is filled each evening. Last night, the Grand Keeper of Records and Seal was present, and the lodge conferred the second and third degrees, being highly complimented on the work. After the meeting, the members adjourned to Zimmer's restaurant, where a bountiful supper was spread. Mr. Zimmer knows how to fix up for such occasions, and all were delighted with the spread. Several speeches were made after the meal was carefully tucked away.

A Good Show.

W. H. Harris, the well-known colored show man, has gotten together a troupe of splendid minstrel artists, and will give another entertainment at the court house next Monday night, the 24th. In addition to several local people, he has secured Johnson and Brown, two colored men who have traveled all over the country, the former being with the famous Billy Ker-sands for several seasons. These men are professionals, and it is by accident that they are to be in this show. There will be no disorder whatever, and a special portion of the house will be set apart for white people. Having seen several shows under this manager, we can cheerfully recommend it as first class. Admission 25c. Reserved seats 35c.

Burnside.

Mrs. Kitty Burnside, widow of Ell-jah Burnside, formerly of this county, died at her home in Stanford Sunday morning. She had been seriously ill for some time, and her death was unexpected. She resided in Garrard for many years, her husband being a prominent farmer of this county and a brother of Judge R. A., Jas. A. and Joe Burnside of this county. She had many warm friends here who regretted to hear of her death. She leaves three children, Mrs. E. P. Owsley, of Columbus, Ga., Mrs. Al Huffman and Miss Pearl Burnside, of Stanford, who have the sympathy of many Lancaster friends in their great bereavement. Funeral services were conducted in Stanford Monday morning and the remains brought to Lancaster for interment at the Lancaster Cemetery. The hour of burial not being generally understood, many friends were unable to pay the last tribute of respect, although quite a number remained in the cold most all morning awaiting the arrival of the party. A great many Stanford friends came over with the remains.

Fine Lot of Officers.

THE RECORD prints, in this issue, the pictures of four of the new county officials, Messrs. A. D. Ford, J. A. Doty, Thomas Austin and W. L. Lawson. It is our desire to get the photos of all the officers, but only these had nerve to stand before the camera. "The David" Ross tried several photographers, but broke the camera each time. As stated in a recent issue, Garrard has a capable, honest and faithful set of officials, of whom all the citizens are justly proud, and THE RECORD asks all to join it in giving them earnest support in the discharge of their duties.

A Dog Law Needed.

The farmers of Kentucky have not, as yet, presented to the Legislature any bill which has for its purpose the protection of sheep and other stock from the ravages of dogs, says the Hodgenville Herald. The state needs a law to protect the sheep industry, especially. Sheep breeding and raising have been profitable in all of the States of this country where the stock has been protected by simple safeguard measures and why not in Kentucky, where the soil, climate and the natural resources are of such a nature that the poorest farmer in the state may raise a small flock without much expense and with profit? The dog, however, is in the way of the small breeder, who cannot house his flock at night. The Legislature should protect the property of the people of the State from ravages by dogs, and in no way can that body render a greater service to the farmer, large and small, than by passing a law which will give them immunity for their property from the ravages of animals which give neither protection nor profit to their owners.

Aged Citizen Passes Away.

On last Saturday afternoon, the citizens of Lancaster and Garrard county were greatly pained to learn of the death of Mr. J. Hansborough West, which occurred about two o'clock that day. While Mr. West was well advanced in years, yet no one thought the end so near, and the news was a great shock to all. He attended church on the Sunday before his death, and it is thought that the cold thus contracted hastened his death. No man stood higher in the estimation of the people than did Mr. West, nor was there ever a man who more richly deserved the high respect and confidence reposed in him. He devoted his life to farming, and was quite successful. He was never known to turn his back upon a friend, nor fail to do any kindness that was within his power to do toward his fellow man. He had been a member of the Christian church for about fifty-six years, and for many years was a deacon. He was born in Madison county, Kentucky, in May, 1816, and lacked but a few months of being eighty-six years old. He was one of a family of eight children, of whom only one, an aged sister, remains. He leaves a wife and five children, two boys and three girls. In his death his family loses a kind and noble-hearted husband and father, and the county a noble, upright, honest citizen. He was a true Christian gentleman and has gone to his reward. After funeral services, conducted by Rev. Allen R. Moore, at the Christian church Monday at 10:30 o'clock, the remains were interred in the Lancaster Cemetery.

Modern Missions.

The growing missionary interest in the Christian church, or Disciples of Christ, all over the county, reminds us all again of the wonderful power of the missionary movement. Now every nation on earth is wide open to the gospel. Not so a century ago. The Christian church has missions in India, China, Japan, Africa, Turkey, England, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Cuba, the Hawaiian Islands and the Philippine Islands. They have 271 missionaries and stations in those fields. Growing educational institutions are springing up, also, in those lands. Some of the strongest men in this religious body have gone out to Japan and China and other heathen lands. They are helping to shape a new Christian civilization on the ruins of hoary faiths. In Japan, for instance, there is now a public school system that will compare with our own in America. The Imperial University in Tokio has more than 2,000 students. The postal system of Japan is pronounced as good as in America: the telegraph wire stretches to every part of the land. All this and more has been done since the advent of the missionary, less than fifty years ago. The annual offering for Foreign Missions in all the churches of this communion is the first Sunday in March. The church in this place is willing, and it may be counted upon to do its full part. It is expected that fully $200,000 will be raised for this work this year. Last year $171,000 was secured for work in distant lands. The Christian Church has come to be one of the leading religious bodies in the country. They number more than a million, and the growth last year is said to have been about 50,000. The number of churches is over 10,000, and the number of ministers fully 6,000. They are also building up a number of splendid educational institutions in different parts of the country. We wish for them abundant success in their effort to raise $200,000 this year to spread the gospel in all the world.

In Memoriam.

Died, at her home in Garrard county Ky., on the morning of January 25th, 1902, Mrs. Margaret A. Sanders, wife of James M. Sanders, after an illness of several years. Mrs. Sanders was the eldest daughter of Samuel and Mary J. Wherritt, prominent citizens of Richmond, Ky., where she was born on the 26th day of August 1827. She was married to Jackson King at the home of her parents on the 25th day of May 1844, becoming the mother of seven children, two of whom, with her husband preceded her to the grave.

Her children having married or made new homes for themselves, Mrs. King was again married at the home of her mother, in Richmond, Ky., on the 23rd of August, 1881, to Mr. J. M. Sanders, and had lived in Lancaster and Garrard county from that time. She united with the Presbyterian church in early life, in which connection she lived and died. Besides her devoted husband, she leaves five children, several grand children, six brothers and sisters, and a large circle of kindred and friends who mourn her loss, but "we sorrow not even as others which have no hope."
